Within my body a reaction with euphoria
Yielded in the spaces between the blood and brain
Feelings come and go in a matter of moments
To climb down from such heights is the hard part

There is no condition, no source of incursion
Open up and reveal the inside
There is no collision, no signs of bloodloss
A gaping hole revealing the inside

Sole surviving witness to this downfall
I build what I can from the pieces now
From these ashes I will rise in flames
Look back and raise my head in triumph

Infestation of what I was Insinuations of what I'll become
The feeding of the virulent
Urge inside me is suppressed

I'll wear these tracks just like the wounds they are now
A lifetime of fucking up and falling down
Well who now, who's the one I have to blame
There's no one, nobody but I

There is no condition, no source of incursion
Open up and reveal the inside
There is no collision, no signs of bloodloss
A gaping hole revealing the inside
There is no condition, no source of incursion
Open up and reveal the inside
There is no collision, no signs of bloodloss
A gaping hole revealing the inside

Motherfucker
Keep digging
You'll find something
