I stare sitting next to you
But I don't know what to do
So I turn away
Not quite sure what to say
I saw you look at me
I pretended not to see
And the look on your face
It made my heart race

Late at night I sit in bed
You're running through my head
Cause you're always on my mind
No matter what the time
And I don't think you know
How far I'd go
Just to see
That you're happy

If only you knew how much I cared about you
If only I could show the way I wish things could go
If only I was given the chance for a shot at what sone
call
Romance
And I'll stay by you
And I promise to always be true

I feel the chance has come and gone
But I still go on and on
No matter what we do
I'll always love you

If only you knew how much I cared about you
If only I could show the way I wish things could go
If only I was given the chance for a shot at what sone
call
Romance
And I'll stay by you
And I promise to always be true
And I'll stay with you
Because I love you
