Eightball hanging overhead flushed out like Frankenstien
one more for the living dead thats not me this time knocked down I've been down before yet still we bare the load
if I would want it anymore I just might explode

All your heroes have died and left you to rise from the ashes and live for today

Can you take it all when we're standing tall
we don't need a wall built around us Jump into the flame one and all the same we won't feel
the pain
Thick is the Skin Thick is the skin Yeah

Outside still looking in I'll keep what I've made mine timebomb strapped to my chin step down or fall in line

All your heroes have died and left you to
rise from the ashes and live for today

Can you take it all when we're standing tall
we don't need a wall built around us

Jump into the flame one and all the same we won't feel
the pain
Thick is the Skin Thick is the Skin Yeah

Hey (x15)

Can you take it all when we're standing tall
we don't need a wall built around us
Jump into the flame one and all the same we won't feel
the pain
Thick is the Skin

Can you take it all when we're standing tall
we don't need a wall built around us
Jump into the flame one and all the same we won't feel
the pain
Thick is the Skin Thick is the Skin

Thick is the Skin Thick is the Skin Yeah

Hey (15)
