Dust myself off, [?]
look back and see all my mistakes sometimes i fall but i'm standing tall but on this straight line where i plan to stay never depend on the world to believe in what i see when i'm imagining cos it's my dream to protect from all harm to preserver, so i'll be strong just a little more makes me that much better just a little time will take me just where i wanna be a little push brings me over the top a little more than less is what i see in myself all it takes is a little (more, more, more)

all it takes is a little (more, more, more)

living life and love, always have fun fits what i love the words never done i'd use my last breath inside of me cos destination will be right in my reach

all it takes is a little concentration and dedication focus and some discipline so wait it out a while have some patience sometimes you gotta get your feet to your knees so you can be at your best

all it takes is a little (more, more, more)
all it takes is a little (more, more, more)
