most of the time
we look in each others eyes what's defined in our lives the pennies and the dimes working hard at my nine to five the headlines don't die unemployment's on the rise same mistakes, lessons learned banks just take, money earned feeling sorry for the poor never mind just give me more never taking it for granted plane just landed, flying first class businessman is a bandit stealing from the people sitting back in the economy salesmen bother me, wall streets infected the swine flu treatment injected but there's not enough to go around so i left it, just like a liberal situation's critical the globe's getting older the fuel struck gold, but the trucks stay stuck along the shoulder

so we carbonate the air that we breathe reverse the deed, they take away the house that i need please can you lower the fee looking up at the man he but ain't looking at me poor men don't stand in the land of the free they live it up but at who's expense paid vacations, wondering why the nation's getting a little too tense

can you see what the problem is, it's selfishness if you read between the lines, look close and rarely you'll find
you'll find the answer
we all got to move a bit faster before this all spreads like cancer

then after, we can all live much better

they act like they don't know
they don't know (x2)
everything is camouflage
camouflage (x2)
we can all live much better
just by working together
forget the bad weather
we can be the lever
need a change for forever
if you know it's time
look beyond your pride inside
they don't know (x2)
everything is camouflage
camouflage (x2)
so who's the one to blame in this day and age i can't pay for schools like NYU but i got the grades and it's a shame that they play with stats the only way to get accepted is to pay with cash and that's the facts time to put it in the past i could pass any class if i was given the chance time to close the gap lower the tuition alternate the focus and the vision please listen

they don't know (x2)
everything is camouflage
camouflage (x2)

we all gotta move a bit faster

they don't know (x2)
everything is camouflage
camouflage (x2)
we can all live much better

they don't know (x2)
everything is camouflage
camouflage (x2)
