I met her for the first time in a nudy bar
She wore high healed shoes and a jacket made of leather
She started to undress when she looked at me and smiled
I felt that I was floating like a feather
I went there for every night in four long weeks
And everytime I saw her she smiled at me
Then suddenly one night she wasn't there anymore
I started cracking up where could she be

Cause she's my mysterious woman
And she's the one who's making my day bright
She's my mysterious woman
And I'm thinking of her every day and night

I searched for her at every bar in town
But at no place where I looked would she be found
Then suddenly one day I met her on the streets
I almost couldn't stand on my feet
I said hello my name is Kent and you're the nicest girl
I've ever seen
She said: hello I am dorean (then I said)

You're my mysterious woman
And you're the one who's making my day bright
You're my mysterious woman
And I'm thinking of you every day and night
