I just don't care anymore
This time you're on your own
Why can't you just see that we're fed up
With you and your constant search for sympathy

There's something weird about you
I don't know what to do
Cause you don't seem to get that I don't wanna hear
About your problems everytime we meet

Enough is enough I'm closing the door
Cause I can not take this anymore

Take a look at yourself can't you see this is wrong
You keep on repeating the same boring song
Well I won't listen to another word you say
So go away!

"I am so ugly and fat
And I don't have any friends"
Those words were okey to say when we were
Thirteen years old but now you're twentythree
