You wanna speak up and say I don't agree
But in the end you don't say a word
You wanna be able to just walk away
But in the end you do as the rest
You wanna say no when the joint goes around
But in the end you're high as a bird
You wanna be sober you don't wanna drink
But it ends up with you being drunk

You gotta make your choice
Will you give your opinion or follow the stream
Will you ever raise your voice
Or will you do as they say and agree

You think you're alone that there's no one who cares
But maybe there's someone like you
It's like being on a train running faster
And no one is pulling the brake
You wanna be able to stop and get of
But the speed is much to high
You're afraid of being alone on your own
But maybe it's worth taking the shot

You gotta make your choice
Will you give your opinion or follow the stream
Will you ever raise your voice
Or will you do as they say and agree
