We breathe the same air
You should have been there
You would have seen the way her eyes danced
And when the moon it hits the water it shines in the same way
We need a change if you give me a chance
We could fly away far away from this place
I know we can be we tend to agree
It makes more sense to do it this way
With integrity
I want to break this
I want to break this
We need to change
If we give it to him
He could take it away
Don't you want it erased
