I was such a follower
I thought that was the way to be
To have everything
That could be
To have happiness
But I looked in the mirror
And who did I see
A girl standing there
And that wasn't me

[Chorus]
Life in the passenger seat
Passes you By
Then at no reason
You see yourself
And ask why
Why you care what others think
Why am I even here
Someone else controls your life
That's what Life in the Passengers Seat feels like

Throw all of your troubles out the window
You should be who you are
You shouldn't lie for others to like you
With that you will go far
That's some of the lessons I learned
Watching my life go by
I guess you learn something about yourself
When others control your Life

[Chorus Repeat]

Unbuckle your seatbelt
Go into the drivers seat
And steer your life
To where you wanna be

[Chorus Repeat x2]

Life in the passengers seat
Passes you By
Until you see your self
