Back to the beginning
Nowhere left to go
No-one is winning

Out there is darkness
Shadows all go home
The trees are all bowing their heads

A blank landscape face me

South stands the cross
South stands the cross

Sunset leaves the sky
The night closes in
It's time we were home

A beam of light passes
Through my mind
Then I see

A nothing landscape faces me

South stands the cross
South stands the cross

South stands
South stands
South stands the cross
South stands
South stands
South stands the cross

In our old positions
Starting once again
This time we might win

South stands the cross
South stands the cross
South stands the cross
