Across the lawn last great divide
The distant longing never dies
And all the pain of a dream that was never known
Never fades, no
That's alright, someday I'll find you
I tell myself most every night

You seem so far and away
Another life, another time and place
Oh, oh, if only I could find you
So far and away
It's something lost I never will replace
It seems so far away

A love I'll never come to see
And though I've tried can't let it be
My God, it aches for the longing it only grows
Every day
I only bleed when I'm all alone
They say in time give it tomorrow
But to me that's just a lie

You seem so far and away
Another life, another time and place
Oh, oh, if only I could find you
So far and away
I'm waiting on a miracle today
It seems so far away

(Solo)

So if you hear this last refrain
I hope you know that I still wait
I can't let go, all I need is a miracle
And today all I need is a miracle
Oh, oh, oh, yeah

It seems so far and away
Another life, another time and place
Oh, oh, I hope these words will find you
So far and away
It's something lost I never will replace

No, I'm begging for a miracle today
Hey, hey, hey

(Solo)

And I wait so long
And I wait so long
So alone, so alone
