We are besieged by our enemies, their armies have gathered around us;
A great host of horses, chariots and men.
We can't live through such a vast number.

Will we fall to the might of our enemies?
We are outnumbered and outclassed.
If we surrender, they might show us mercy.
"And live at the cost of everything?"

No. Surrender is not an option.
Have you not taken heed to the promises of old?
Have you already forgotten what was told?

Raise your head and look on the mountains.
Those with us are far more than those against us.
Our King has sent His best to our aid,
So we will not fall to the might of our enemy.

Don't you see the vast army of fiery horses and chariots?
I pray your eyes will be opened, so your despair will flee."
