Offered her a roof
The rain had made it shine
Offered her a song
Wasn't really mine
I showed her all my things
She offered me belongings
She thought I was a ragman
She offered me possessions
I tied them in a knot
Wrapped it in a note
I kept it in my pocket
I showed her all my things
She offered me belongings
She thought I was a ragman
I came to her too soon
She should have had a ragdoll
And wound up with a ragman
Wings and kites and wedding rings
All these charms I said I'd bring
I showed her all my things
She offered me belongings
She thought I was a ragman
Baby you're a rich man
Lost in a small world
Looking for a ragdoll
Wound up with a ragman
With a ragman
Ragman
The rain had made it shine
The rain had made it shine
The rain had made it shine
The rain had made it shine
The rain had made it shine
The rain had made it shine
The rain had made it shine
