

Deacon Blue "Suprised By Joy"

Visit "Suprised By Joy" on MotoLyrics.com

There's a million roads that I'd not taken till you caught me with my eyes closed looking over my shoulder to see what's behind me I didn't see the promised land

I fell back into your arms (it's hard when you don't know)
I was so suprised by the joy (it was all that I could do) to trust you with my life

As the road goes on the paths get steeper a light begins to shine though I pass by and miss the turning you'd walk with me over the edge

On the road and bound for glory but I'm a fool when I forget I'm on the route where travellers seldom meet it's so easy to slip

And fall back into your arms (it's so easy when you know) but I'm still suprised by the joy (though it happens all the time)
anytime, anywhere (when the wind is blowing cold) when there's nothing left at all (it's all that I can do) to trust him with your life

Visit Deacon Blue page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.