Your constant heart
Beats like the road
It cuts through the rain
And clears the snow
And in our summer
We take it slow
Letting the wind
Die in the hollow
Oh your constant heart
Your constant heart
Your constant heart
Your constant heart
Now that the leaves are strewn
On your constant path
Your feet won't stumble
From your chosen task
Like the light above
And the earth so red
Your constant heart
Never leaves me guessing
Oh your constant heart
Your constant heart
Your constant heart
Your constant heart
I'm still excited
By the
Good good night you bring
The long loud song
You sing and the boom boom beat that rings
I'm still excited
By the
Good good night you bring
The long loud song
You sing and the boom boom beat
That rings
From your constant heart
That's my defence
The rich man's judge
The poor man's friend
Your constant heart
Your constant heart
Your constant heart

Your constant heart
Like the sky so strong
Like the earth so warm
Like the trees so blown
Like the clouds so ripped and torn
Your constant
Your constant heart
Your constant heart
