Even if there's no where left to go
I'll take you there, I'll take you there

And if it ever feels like there is no where left to turn
I'll take you there
Always be there
Please take me there

I've watched myself struggle with this fear of falling down
Cus I've seen a silhouette of me who is this stranger
I've become
Who is this man that I've become?

I'll take you there
I'll take you there
And if it ever feels like there is no where left to turn
I'll take you there
Always be there
Please take me there

I lost myself
I questioned if I had the strength to move
Cus I get up and then I fall back down
I look up and there's nobody around
It's quiet and I hate the sound
So quiet and I hate the sound
How could I let myself come to this?
I'll take one more drink and then I'll be dismissed
I'm left to walk this world alone
I like it better on my own
For all the things I've done
Who is this man that I've become?

I'll take you there
I'll take you there
And if it ever feels like there is no where left to turn
I'll take you there
Always be there

Please take me there

You're so blind
It's over and don't be so ignorant
I don't wanna be.. your very best intentions now

I'll take you there
I'll take you there
And if it ever feels like there is no where left to turn
I'll take you there
Always be there
Please take me there

I'll take you there
I'll take you there
I'll take you there
Always be there
Please take me there
