Summer came and went
Soon the fall fell upon us
We were cruel and we spent
All the feelings that we'd saved up
Our future came and went
Where it's gone? I'll never know
I'll never know, I'll never know, I'll never know
Love turned to dust at our feet down below
I'll never know

Why she became the sun
Blamed it on herself
She became the sunlight in the dawn of my mind
Blamed it on herself

Fools to the end
We tried to fly on
But I had to land with silent devotion
Our future came and went
Where it's gone, I'll never know
I'll never know, I'll never know, I'll never know
Love turned to dust on our street down below
I'll never know

Why she became the sun
Blamed it on herself
She became the sunlight in the dawn of my mind
Blamed it on herself
