Can't you see things are getting worse and I can't slow them down.

I've waited my whole life for you to come around, and I won't stop now.

If this is all there is, what are you waiting for?

It's all for you. Don't go down like this, nothing left to prove.

It's all for you. If you're listening or not, it's time that you hear me.

I don't care if you've heard it all before, I'm saying it again.

Should have said this long ago, a million miles from here.

I've waited for so long for you to come around, I'm calling you out.

Feel you slip away, slip away.

Feel you slip away, away from me.
