My enemy is sleeping inside my dreams
And I can't leave, what's inside of me
Going back again, To my neighborhood
Where I was king, and life was good
How things change

Forgot to thank you, for all the great memories
Forgot to tell you how much it did for me

And I blame myself, for everything
Lying and crying don't take back the words I said (controlling, demanding, surprised you stayed this long)
The sheep leaves the flock, I lost another friend

It was fun but I think I've grown out of you Selfish boy there's no room for two

Another friend, Another friend, I push away, Another friend
The cycle, keeps me, from having to many regrets

Stop it, you better stop it
I wanna turn you, I wanna turn you to me
