Disillusion is where my hope began
Forget the promises they sold us
And put reality in front of your eyes

The world is burning down
And we're so far from the truth
The world is burning down
And again my fears are coming true

Simulation of happy ending lives
You worship what you can't afford
Your mind is getting screen-burnt

My fears turned into reality
My fears turned into something...
My fears turned into reality
No place for us
My fears turned into something I cannot believe

Daydream addiction burns your mind
Slowly committing suicide
Daydream addiction burns your mind
Your life is under control

Obey the new god
That's what you're taught
Buy your salvation

Carried by the blue light
The great work is done
We are all addicted
And we dream of...
