You don't know anything
You burn each bridge you cross
I heard what you said just not sure i believe

I been thinkin bout things you been Doin to me and to my friends
Youre a liar you're a cheater
On top of all that you're a beater
Your pants have been on fire for so long
I have had it up to here with you

Just keep walking right on by
Don't bother with your two faced smile
Weve got a knife stuck in our back
With your initials painted black
Say somthing - you said nothing

I know what you don't think i know but i know

You bring us down when you're around
We can see through all of your lies
And everthing you ever say we disregard
