Woke like a baby, woke, they took somebody from me.
this time I think it was forever. looks like a movie, looks, like they took somebody from me. I wish I could return to when I woke, like a lover, woke and found somebody with me. I wish I wasn't me, I wish I wasn't me... now I'm standing at the edge of my world and I am looking for a place to stay... standing at the edge of my world... joked for a minute, joked, but somebody for me!? and all the times you've seen me, I just spoke in a riddle, spoke: but somebody for me? I hoped that I could make it, but I broke like a mirror, I broke choked in the middle indeed. I wish I wasn't me, I wish I wasn't me... now I'm standing at the edge of my world and I am looking for a place to stay... standing at the edge of my world... and that's ok...
sleep like a baby, sleep
