Wild in the woods of love
We harm those whom we adore
Contrary to other intentions
We suffocate them in an alarming embrace

Listen child, try to understand
All is not what it appears to be in the world at hand
Your dreams are bought and sold for a price
The truth a burden to plead for the rest of your life

These paths that we've chosen
They lead to fear and despair
So we look from and experience without
The...? ? ?
All is hidden...? ? ?
We're all brothers and sisters in spirit

Wild in the woods of love
We harm those whom we adore
And contrary to other intentions
We suffocate them in an alarming embrace
