What is this frightened air between us
What is the question posed
What is this violence I sense lurking [alt:creeping]
What is your secret code
I wanna know

Why are the pipers crawling towards us
What are we meant to show
Why are you smiling daggers at me
What do you have that's mine to hold
It's a song I sing
It's a song I sing

I pull into the town
Smoke rings around the square
I'm tearing the ground
There is a place you'll [Alt: she'll] explode
I'm getting close
To an answer to my question
To my small notions of Rome

[Where does the _____ [d]ream?] you follow
Why are we laying low
Why must the cannons reap for nothing
Why must the depths of hell be neatly sown
I have to know

Why are the crows crowing boldly
How far must their uplinking go
Why are the unknown known arising
What is the unknown known to your lost soul
I've got to know

I raced from the town bleeding like some kind of bitch
I'm down on my knees digging a new kind of ditch
Braced it with pretty words
But no answers to my question
To my small notions of Rome
It's a song I sing
It's a song I sing

I volunteer, to let me commandeer

The last frontiers from your faith
A gentle wish must float upstream
Why must hope kick like a sweet dream

What is this blood you drink like wine for
Are your nights worth breaking in Why [does/ Alt: in] the face of Death [Alt: do] you curtsy
When he comes to tuck you in
Itâ€™s a song I sing
Itâ€™s a song I sing
Itâ€™s a song I sing

What are we fighting for
The spoils would end this war
What are these sores you lick like ice cream

You hide the ash
You ride the past [Alt: You hide the past]
What is the black bracelet for?
Itâ€™s the song I sing
Itâ€™s the song I sing
Itâ€™s the song I sing

[Alternate version:
I keep telling you,
I keep telling you,
I keep telling you,
I donâ€™t want this song

I keep telling you,
I keep telling you,
I keep telling you,
I donâ€™t want this song
Itâ€™s the song I sing]
