(feat. Hazel Jayne)

Maybe ut's me who is to blame
When I try to read it spells my name
Maybe it's me who is to blame
The web that I weave is always the same

I get lost when I try to analyse
When events start to familiarize
I know I have patterns you see
And that they are all coming from me
Self ??? prophecy is running my life

Maybe ut's me who is to blame
When I try to read it spells my name
Maybe it's me who is to blame
The web that I weave is always the same

Oh how I try to listen to the sounds of the heavens
With my head to the sky I forget to keep my feet
On the ground, need to come back down
I know I have patterns you see
And that day are all cominf from me
Self ??? prophecy is running my life

Maybe ut's me who is to blame
When I try to read it spells my name
Maybe it's me who is to blame
The web that I weave is always the same

It spells my name...

Maybe ut's me who is to blame
When I try to read it spells my name
Maybe it's me who is to blame
The web that I weave is always the same

Sometimes I feel crazy, sometimes I feel good
Sometimes I feel so lonely, sometimes I feel like I could

Maybe ut's me who is to blame
When I try to read it spells my name

Maybe it's me who is to blame
The web that I weave is always the same
