If you believe all your hope is gone
Down the drain of your humankind
The time has arrived, you'll be waiting here as I was In a snow white shroud, waiting underground

There by the ridge be a gathering Beneath the pilgrim moon, there we shall await the beat of your feet
Hammering the earth where the great ones tremble
In their snow white shrouds waiting underground

If you see the kingdom, come, come along
Waiting by the ridge there'll be a gathering
Beneath the pilgrim moon there the railroad thunders

There we shall await the beat of your feet
Hammering the earth and as the earth resounds
Where the great ones tremble
And your humankind becomes as one

Then we will arise in our snow white shrouds
We will be as one but until that day
We will just await in our snow white shrouds

Waiting underground in our snow white shrouds
Waiting underground, waiting underground
Waiting underground, waiting underground
Waiting underground, waiting underground, waiting underground
