IÃf'Ã,'m looking at my face staring back at me

Look at the mirror hating everything reflecting me

CouldnÃf'Ã,'t believe what the whole world has done to me

It was me, me, me, all that I could see

I was in trouble I was in pain

I was playing on the edge of going insane

Damn I got stuck, always bad luck

CouldnÃf'Ã,'t see all these people who were backing me up

After crying and long years of hiding

I was recognizing the cycle IÃf'Ã,'m in

All this aching IÃf'Ã,'m done with this faking

This sadness IÃf'Ã,'m breaking, again IÃf'Ã,'ll begin

I blamed the whole community

For all the shit surrounding me

ThatÃf'Ã,'s why I felt this hate in me

for life

So I start looking back at me and take responsibility

ThatÃf'Ã,'s why I feel this sympathy

for life

Suddenly I loved life again
Suddenly I even laughed again
Finally I could sleep again, breathe again
I could even eat again
Life didn't seem so bad for me
Got a great band friends and a family and a lovely girl taking care of me
Was it me screaming life ain't fair to me
Past is just baggage you take on this voyage
Nothing but a package that's making you strong
Just have some faith in the choices you're making Wherever they'll take you
That's where you belong
Why couldn't I just see that my world is spinning just for me
I am a part of life
I got sick of blaming every day the same accusations
My whole life's a lie
The world is spinning just for me
