I wish I had a penny for Every time she gave me those eyes
Those eyes would cry, "Take me on the floor"

I've been with her once of twice
In my dreams, it felt so nice
I'd do exactly what those eyes told me

There's never a smile on your face
Always a gesture of disgrace
Obviously you're unhappy with my stares that I hold just too long

Of course, I know that it is wrong
But deep down inside, I know you like it

In my little hide, in my little hide
In my little hide, hide, hide, hide

Upon the rack, I'm stretched and split
Demented as I do my bit
Whatever I could do to make you smile

I can't wait to get to bed
Not so I can rest my head
Just so I can dream about you

In my little hide, in my little hide
In my little hide, in my little hide

In my little hide, hide, hide, hide
