

So Far Left It's Right

"2 Balls, 1 Strike"

Well if you could see
The darkest part that dwells in me
I know you'd leave
Not hesitate increasing speed
As you drove by
I catch a glimpse inside our eye
That fear drives you
Turns all your happiness to blue
Because if you would believe
That something inside of me
Would shine brighter than your life
Then everything you perceive
Will fill a voice you can't see
Takes you completely by surprise
