They stand in the wind and the rain Not a fear left in the world They've learned that this life Is unpredictable

Far away Where the moon falls into the sea

Without knowing anything for certain This may be the last day So everything has more meaning And so much more color this way

Far away Where the moon falls into the sea

Like wild flowers
