Most of us don't even know what we live for Most of us don't even know our name
The time has come to step up friend and show your colour
The time has come to live unselfish ways
I'm not waiting for fate and time to decide my life or my time
I'm not waiting
There's no way
Out from inside to grow now in time
This life awake

I here that truth can set you free
Only a truth can set you free from a lie
All I feel while emotions collide here
I'm stuck in an ocean grown wide
Swim for one more day here
I can swim for one more day

Waiting for fate and time to decide my life or my time
I'm not waiting
There's no way
Out from inside to grow now in time

Your ways are gone
Lessons burn
You can't stop what you think about
In mind live only
Your ways are gone
Lessons burn
Can't stop what you think about

Divide
Do what you feel is the right
You must be holding on to let go

Some are swimmin for the way home
But some against don't swim
Some other way go

All that is not coloured is vital so it's unending

All that is not spoken is vital so it's unending

You're just like me
