I just can't understand
Why you got me on hold at your command
Why this other guys got the upper hand
I think its time for me to know just where i stand
The other day you said you needed me
But everything is becoming very plain to see
The way things are really gonna be
You gonna have to set him free
If you say you want

Theres something about the way you look at me
You try to show me things I cannot see
Your heart is torn apart, and I just don't know why
Baby he lies and cheats, just say goodbye
Why can't you see that I want you so
And if you want me then let him go
Love is made for two girl, it could be right
Why don't you want me for more than just one night

Chorus:

You say you want me, baby let me know
Then you say you need me, just let it show
Just give me your love baby, we'll take it slow
If you really want me you got to let him go

Tell me you love me, now tell him so
But he has your heart girl and won't let go
You got to be strong, don't let him win
Then I got to have you cause I just can't be your friend
And why can't you see that I want you so
And if you want me then let him go
Love is made for two girl, it could be right
Why don't you want me for more than just one night

Chorus

Theres no one is this world, who can love you like I do
Just give me the chance to be there for you
Then show me what love can do
And why can't you see that I want you so
And if you want me then let him go

Love is made for two girl, it could be right
Why don't you want me for more than just one night

Chorus
