

Sofia Talvik

"Jonestown"

Visit "Jonestown" on MotoLyrics.com

Put your troubles in a box, and your heart behind the locks
Of the safest place you know, to protect you from the blow
Of the unforgiving world, so you can be fine, be fine... be fine, be fine

Don't let anyone get close, just keep staring at your shoes
Build a shell around yourself, put your life up on the shelf
It's the safest way you know, so you can be fine, be fine... be fine, be fine

And with your lost life in your arms, your revolutionary charms
Will you make it there someday, Jonestown USA
It is heaven on earth they say,
but can you be fine, be fine... be fine, be fine

Could you save you from yourself, if you moved to somewhere else?
Could location be the key, the horizon and the sea,
An actor in a different scene, so could you be fine, be fine... be fine, be fine

And with your lost life in your arms, your revolutionary
charms
Will you make it there someday, Jonestown USA
It is heaven on earth they say,
but can you be fine, be fine... be fine, be fine

And when your heart is breaking, will you be forsaking love
Cause no matter what you do, we will always love you And what could be your temple, could also be your downfall
So if you don't know where to turn to, make sure you don't turn us down

