you want to break the promise you gave me you don't want to look when it's the scene you can't make yourself free just for breaking everything you kept on tripping you kept on slipping you kept on smiling
doing all your things

well if you laugh
don't treat me way too enough
when you speak
it's so weak
something through is rough
you can't be
what i see
all this days
that's the things i'll never say
well if you crawl
don't make me mock you again
when you shake
you don't know how to break
something through is rough
this can't be
what you see
all this days
things i'll never say

you want to show everyone how you never got on my back you never want to get on track you never want to show me how you care well you're not always there no one had ever kissed your face no one had ever stabbed you back but who cares
this are all i care
the things i'll never say

don't treat me way too enough
when you speak

it's so weak
you can't be
what i see
all this days
well if you crawl
when you shake
all this days
it's so weak
you can't be
all this days
when you shake
this can't be
what you see
all this days

Well....

(guitar solo)

you kept on trying to hurt me you kept on spying to see me you don't care besides you're not always there you never finish all this sadness you finished your madness but you can't care just for me not the thing i wanted to be yea

well if you laugh

it's so weak
you can't be
all this days
when you shake
this can't be
what you see
all this days
it's so weak
you can't be
all this days
when you shake
this can't be
all this days
it's so weak
you can't be
all this days
when you shake
this can't be
all this days
