How different would it be
For the peace of my broken heart
If you would have been a little more honest
With this strong feeling given by me

And I'm asking why
I'm not feeling hate about you
Maybe the only think that I know
Is loving, loving just to you

It's a sad sunset
Getting darker the affection given by me
But I'm really sure the sun is going to rise
And will give some life to my broken heart

And I'm asking why
I don't feel hate about you
Maybe the only think that I know
Is loving, loving just to you
