War, stupid fucking word
I don't want to die
In a goddamn battle
Why giving my life
For the shitty flag?
For one's country?
I would rather to live
In a dream world without borders
Because in the end
Human beings is all what we are

Why dying?
Why keeping?
Holding on this sick abuse
The life which
So many people lost
So much blood into the trash can

I can not understand
How they can believe
The manufactured hate
(Everyday at news)
I don't want to detest
Border friendly countries
I just want to say
I don't believe in war
I don't believe in one's country
Neither in the national (shitty flag)
I know that in the course of time
Somebody will hear us
And the shitty flags will shine with fire

Why dying?
Why keeping?
Holding on this sick abuse
The life which
So many people lost
So much blood into the trash can
Stop the fucking war!
