he put her heart into his pocket he didn't think to give it back she didn't do a thing to stop it just one less thing now to unpack oh, now she's home
and since he never calls her then he'll never have to know he drove away to watch the sunrise she only saw it set away he doesn't think of her the way she thinks of him he fell asleep, she stayed awake
oh, now she's home
she tries to write him a letter all she can write is "I love you" this envelope will never make it to the postbox she's feeling stupid an confused
