special delivery postage due
you've returned me to sender, haven't you I know better than to fall for you but you're so much in your postal blue if I were smart I'd stay away from you I can't stand you in your postal blue I know I never cross your mind I know I'm not really your kind misreading signals all the while reading too much into your smile
