No more home
I downgrade on the couch again.
I swear I'll make myself tiny
I just have a guitar and a suitcase with me.

No more home
Much more worries
It was fun for just a second
To be a vagabond musician
But I could use some security now.

And I just can't recall
How I did it before
You're way stronger
When you're younger
Just have to learn it all again.

No more love
I've been fired from my caretaker job
I'm always the one who loves the most
And I suffer even more.

And I just can't recall
How I did it before
Love is much bigger
When you're younger
Just have to learn it all again.
I just have to learn it all again.
