Come Running

You call my name, come running
Come running in my friend
If I was ever in need
I would be calling your name.
And if it's a sunny day tomorrow
We can relax by the sand
And I won't fall away from your shadow

And it's time to unveil those beautiful eyes
There's a whole lot more than you realise
There's a shift going on that you feel inside
And it's time to open you into the light
Can you see the love you are
It burns inside so bright
Can you see the love you are

And if you want your name
It's coming
It's simply love, my friend
That let's you in so come running
And I will be calling your name.
And if it's a sunny day tomorrow
We can bring all the friends around
And maybe we might go running
Through seas and skies about.

And it's time to unveil those beautiful eyes
There's a whole lot more than you realise
There's a shift going on that you feel inside
And it's time to open you into the light
Can you feel the love you are
It burns inside so bright
Can you see the love you are

And you're looking on up to your home in the stars Remembering what it's like to be safe and warm in your daddy's arms
And now it's you who can enfold your wings round a broken one

And it's you who needs your love
More than anyone

You into the light
Can you feel the love you are
It burns inside so bright
Can you see the love you are
Can you see the love you are
