A stone's throw away
From where i use to stay
Then there you ere
And i somehow found myself in your world
And god only knows
The reasons why we chose
To leave it all behind
I wish our lives didn't end up this way
For your sake and mine

We never were lost
We never were found
We're both standing on the same ground
We tried to move on
But something always just went wrong
We can't live a lie
We can't just get by
But we can't say we didn't try
It's never easy letting go

We're trapped in this maze of life
And we couldn't find each other
And though i didn't find you
I wish you could find your way out through
It's not just about looking at each other's eyes
But looking at the same direction
It's not that your views were wrong
They were just not right for me

We never were lost
We never were found
We're both standing on the same ground
We tried to move on
But something always just went wrong
We can't live a lie
We can't just get by
But we can't say we didn't try
It's never easy letting go

We never were lost
We never were found
We're both standing on the same ground
We tried to move on
But something always just went wrong
We can't live a lie
We can't just get by
But we can't say we didn't try
It's never easy
It's never easy
It's never easy
It's never easy
