When I was just a girl, I felt just so alone Locked myself in closets thinking if I was the only one Thin light shining on my room, locked up in this old cocoon

Look at me, I'm just a girl, still feeling so alone
Looking at myself thinking best to come and easy go Street light shining on my room, locked up in this old
cocoon

And all I wanted was the dream of being in love with you
All I wanted was the dream of being in love with you
All I wanted was the dream of being in love with you
All I wanted was the dream of being in love with you

But when I was just a girl I wore a thousand lives Heading on a search for the thing that makes me feel alright
Ten black moments in my room, diamonds gems from the womb

And now I'm just a girl living in the satellite Took what I needed from this time and get it down at night
Street light shining in my room, you take up his setup soon

And all I wanted was the dream of being in love with
you
All I wanted was the dream of being in love with you
All I wanted was the dream of being in love with you
