There's Something in Air
I can't breathe
It's taking over, over me

My head's above water
But it's drowning me
But it is drowning me!
Is this your message
You try to send
Is this revenge
Your so called end

There's something in the air
I can't breathe
It's taking over, over me

You strip this down
Straight to bone
This unfamiliar landscape
You call home
I am the one
Seeing through
I am the one
Red, White, and true

Everything you say to me
Everything you say
My flesh
My home
This life that I own
There wasn't much
To live up to
I see your skin
I see through you

Everything you say to me

My head's above water
But it's drowning me, but it is drowning me

There's something in the air
I can't breathe

It's taking over
Over me!

There's something in the air
I can't breathe
It's taking over, over me
