Sick of wearing my heart on my sleeve im through with you Point and click battles got better things to do People like you will never understand what it is that i do
I have problems of my own Look at me i'm standing here not as perfect as you want me to be Hang my head in shame cause of people like you Give you an inch and like a little bitch you take a fucking mile Open your mouth every chance you get what the fuck is in your head
Will i understand am i getting too old
Do i care too much i guess i'll never know
