Curse this pain this heart has never knew know your acting like a fool, When I come home tonight you won't be there by my side I guess no sleep tonight. The waves hit the shore they seem to sound out your name, this night is filled with sorrows and I guess I feel the same. Before I beat myself tonight, all these bruises that I hide this black eye must subside before you call back tonight. Waking tomorrow did you know I felt it? It hurt real bad I must have hurt some limbs or scratched my arm up, my cds they're ok but I'll never be the same. Sometimes I find myself destructive, the questions always aren't were they lie, sometimes I find myself destructive, I guess that's the way I feel tonight.
All these bruises that I hide this black eye must subside before you call back tonight I hope you're on my side.
