I just wanted you to know that I'm so happy that you called I'm watching the face of eternity change but that's ok with me. I swear I'd never let you go as long as we're standing here I'll never let you go I sit back and I watch you smile you make everything ok and I'll miss you whenever you're away. Nothing's ever been so clear of all the ways I need you here I'm keeping your phone calls close to me wherever you may be. I swear I'd never let you go as long as were standing here I'll never let you go I sit back and I watch you smile you make everything ok and I'll miss you whenever your away.
