We've got amnesia from the slightest problems you start shaking and you start talking takes more than working now to keep you from falling 'cause work is starting and things are falling i'm in a real good place to light out without leaving a trace you said i was the only one now i just don't know whats going on

we don't get out
very much
we don't get out
very much
im afraid were loosing touch with our balled up little crowd when we get out and get drunk and we get high and don't talk we just walk and walk and walk untill we find ourselves alone but atleast we've got each other it's not so bad if you can't remember this is just an excuse for something we have got amnesia from the slightest problems you start shaking and you start talking alone where i can't be you

i don't think alot about you i've been thinking alot about you
