

Something Like Silas

"In The Burning"

All the oceans have lifted
The voice of their pounding waves will cry
Lord of life, so vast
You invest in a broken soul
All the love, all the love, all the love

In the burning
I get the feeling
My senses are far too small
To contain your fire
You are so beautiful, like no other
I am burning for you

I cry from a world that demands my affection
I pray for the light that will guide my eyes
You are radiant brilliance
You provide for the darkened soul
All the love, all the love, all the love

In the fire I will find you
For your great heart
I long for you, Messiah
In the tears I won't cease to see
That you are Holy, oh Lord
I am so close, I am so weak
I am so strong, I am so wrapped up

In the burning, I am burning for you
