Ooo

The selfish way, the way I've learnt to live
With it all take and none left to give
Strange the change, we're left to face
When love's gone I find myself back at square one

I gotta learn to forget, ohh
There's no future in the past only memories that fade
Speak with my heart not my head
'Cause some things are better left unsaid

Yes you and I were never meant to be Seems the more I look the less that I see Wasting time trying to find the thing that we've lost for far too long
And now it's back to square one, ohh

I gotta learn to forget, ohh
There's no future in the past, only memories that fade
Speak with my heart not my head
'Cause some things are better left

Wish that I could change the things I said about you
(About you)
Wish that I could change the way that you feel
And God knows I'd die to be in your arms again
Chase away the hurt, kiss away the pain

I've gotta learn to forget, ohh
There's no future in the past, only memories that fade
Speak with my heart, not my head
Learn to forgive and forget
'Cause some things are better left unsaid
Ooo
